A note from the Executive Director...

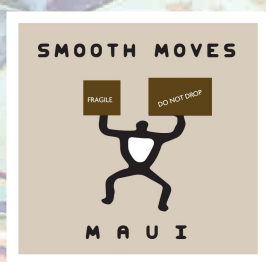

The ethos behind ProArts has long been that, by doing what is best for the community, we will inherently do what is best for ProArts. I could write volumes about how the struggles and silver linings of the last whirlwind two years have proven this to be true time and time again. But instead I would like to focus on appreciation and forward-thinking.

We cannot overstate our gratitude to you, the members of our 'ohana, who have enabled us— through your time, effort, generosity, and words of encouragement— to navigate these difficult times and not only survive, but thrive, leaning in deeper to our mission to provide a truly accessible space that showcases and curates the best of local art and performances, while reflecting the diversity, culture, and people of these islands with pono, mālama, and ha'aha'a.

We are excited for you to see all that we have coming up and our plans to deepen our collaborations with Maui OnStage, MAPA, and the other performing arts groups of Maui, along with our partnerships with other community organizations like Mana'o Radio and Akakū Maui Community Media. We hope also that you will sample a type of event that perhaps you haven't seen here before, be it music, theater, dance, comedy, burlesque, an offering from our Hawaiian Art and Culture Series, or a talk from one of our fellow community-based non-profits.

Mahalo nui loa for helping us keep the arts alive on Maui!

With aloha, Lin McEwan
Executive Director

We've Improved

ProArts would like to take a moment to say a special thank you to those who helped us improve the theater:

The Marji Knowles and Michael Tibbott Art Lobby

- A humble offering of thanks to those whose generosity to this venue simply cannot be repaid or put into words, and so we hope that the beauty of the work on these walls reflects all they have done for this community

The Chuck Langer Stage

- Provided through a generous donation by the late Chuck Langer and his beloved wife Carol
- Built by Kona Winds Construction

Suzi O Technical Booth

- Dedicated to a woman who was a beacon of light for the whole theatre community
- Built by Kona Winds Construction with thanks to Jim Doran and Ceramic Tile Plus & Exclusively Yours Design

“Theater Angels” Murals

- Conceived and commissioned by Janet Ruben, Ally Shore & Maggie Stumpp
- Artwork by Barry Gottlieb

Special Thank You:

Warren Orikasa and Abbey Carpet of Maui, Steve Lambert and Air Conditioning Maui, No Problem Electric, and as always, to our late founder Jonathan Lehman and to Richard Vetterli, for laying and protecting the artistic foundation upon which all of this is built.

Helping you buy or sell Amazing Maui Homes!

GET INVOLVED

Join the Maui Theater Ohana.

All of the island theaters love volunteers. From ushering to building sets and making costumes if you have a creative spirit and a little bit of time we would love your help. Maybe you'd like to try your hand at performing or tech crew.

All are Welcome, Come join the Show!

ProArts would like to give special thanks to -

Tim Jasnau

For his generous contribution of time energy
and expertise.

As Maui's concert tuner and piano technician, Tim recently volunteered to give our grand piano a major overhaul which included:

*Complete action regulation
Hammer reshaping
Key restoration
Tone voicing*

And many more details!!!

Thank you Tim!
We appreciate your contribution to
ProArts Playhouse and the Maui community
